About Us:

In 2012, we started Urban Ladder with a vision to make a million homes beautiful. Back then, our catalogue featured just 35 designs. Yet, when our customers shared thephotographs of their homes, we saw they were remarkably distinct. The same table, same chair was used differently by different people. This told us something. People want their homes to be unique. We also realized that people are a lot happier creating things than they are buying things. We are a creative, imaginative, expressive species. And our homes are just one of the many canvases we have at our disposal.

Awards & Recognition:

Urban Ladder collected the 'Best Digital Start-Up' Award at the 4th India Digital Awards conducted by Internet and Mobile Association of India.Ashish Goel was voted by the Network 7 Media Group Jury as "Game Changer Entrepreneur of the year" 2016 at Satya Brahma founded 8th edition of India Leadership Conclave 2016.

Meet Our Newest Collections

Drawn from the timeless shoji screens of Japan, but made our own with Indian touches. Here, hand-woven cane panels sit against richly textured wood and gleaming glass surfaces.

A look so distinctive,you just can't stop staring.in the galatea,we've taken marble from its home turf-countertops and floors-and worked it into furniture. The result is nothing short of stunning.

Inspired by the colonial-ers furniture that we've seen growing up, the malabar range is comfortingly familiar, yet refreshingly new.
